To John McKillop, esq.—Dear Sir: The gradual but steady improvement in the character, capacity and reliamity of the "COMMERCIAL ACENCY" since you undertook its management has been a frequent subject of romark both in and out of the office. When you around the charge some three pears are, the Agency had lost the confidence of the community. Its becokewere full of inaccuracies, its reports confused and unsatisficationy, and men formation, for the most part, scales. Working under every discovergement, with but a handful of subscribers to begin with, and restrained by a high moral feeling from peaking yourself forward and soliciting subscriptions till you were in a possible to begin he peaking and an accordance of the contraction.

Working under every discouragement, with but a handful of subscribers to begin with, and estasined by a high moral feeding from pushing yoursest forward and soliciting subscriptions till you were in a position to furnish a reasonable "quid pro quo," you have brought order out of confusion and silied your books with the land reliable records of information, not surpassed, if equaled, by these of any other Agency. This is not only known to us, but is generally admitted by the business community and proved by the increasant stream of inquirers that throng the office.

The rapid strike that has been made within the past few mouths in the number of subscribers, rendering necessary more room for work, and the contemplated removal to Fark Bank Building, present a suitable and convenient opportunity for us to express our utmost confidence in you as a unansger, and to bear witness to the shifty and fidelity that guard the interest of the "Commercial Agency." At the same time it enables us to assure you that the kind feeling which has ever shown you the friend, more than the employer (as witnessed in our daily intercourse) gives us pride and pleasure. We feel proud of our Agency and proud of its management.

The seconpanying testimontal of our esteem and respect we beg you will accept, with our best wishes for your continued success, bealth and happiness.
